

ICDLIL2020

Conference Date Extended for 2 Days

It would be commendable to share with you that ICDLIL 2020 Conference Secretariat is receiving overwhelming responses for participating in ICDLIL 2020 from around the world. Due to pandemic, the majority of the international conferences in or outside India, have already been canceled. It is required to publish and present papers in international conferences for research scholars pursuing a Ph.D. according to the rules of the University Grants Commission. In this situation, we are facing huge pressure from the research scholars to allow them to publish and present their research papers during the ICDLIL 2020 for fulfilling their basic requirement for completing their Ph.D. research process. In view of feasibility and to collate the issues faced for extending gratitude towards the academic community, the conference secretariat has decided to postpone the event for September 5-6, 2020. In the meantime, conference secretariat would get enough time to accommodate maximum participants for the presentation of the paper in the international conference as postponed for two days i.e. September 5-6, 2020.
